

How to buy a laptop

0.1 AUTHOR DETAILS

Sserwada Mathias, RegNo: 15 /U/12990/PS, StdNo: 215003597

1 Abstract

This piece of writing simply takes one through the steps on how to buy a standard laptop from a credible source. This comes after many people are dissatisfied after they purchase laptops and realize these machines dont suit their desires or they are not in the condition they expected them to be.

2 Introduction

Hence one can follow these simple steps to buy a laptop they desire; List down what youd want in a laptop. What type of laptop do you want? Dell, HP, Sony? Etc. What amount of RAM do you want? Do you intend on doing heavy tasks using the machine? You need to know that youll need a strong computer for this, with a bigger amount of RAM. Do you intend doing video demanding tasks like playing games, graphics designing, etc. you might need a graphics card for this.

3 Methods

Other factors you could consider include size of internal hard drive, battery life, color of laptop, screen size, processor speed measured in ghz, and then more importantly the processor type which is in the order i7, i5, i3, quad core, duo core, Pentium 5, Pentium 1.

4 Result

To determine the credibility of the seller of the laptop, you have to verify that they have the required documentation of operation. This includes certificate of operation, tax returns and also kcca letter if available. You might also consider the reputation of the source from previous customers.

5 Conclusion

With all these put into consideration, one can surely never go wrong on the perfect laptop to purchase